

Shared Humanity.

History. Trent. You.

TRENT
UNIVERSITY

Explore www.trentu.ca/history

Why Trent?

- Small group learning and effective teacher-student interaction
- Development of exceptional research and communication skills
- Large department with a multitude of course options spanning the globe
- Award-winning faculty with research specialties in diverse fields
- Opportunities for study abroad at universities around the world
- Degree-granting program at Trent in Oshawa
- A variety of prizes and scholarships

To view this document in an accessible format, please visit www.trentu.ca

We study history in order to place our experience into a larger context through the exploration of the values, motives, attitudes and actions of others. Through historic inquiry, we come to appreciate the complex relationships among people, places and events that shape our own experience and create our shared humanity.

Degree Opportunities

Bachelor of Arts
(General, Single Major)

Bachelor of Arts
(General, Joint Major or Minor)

Bachelor of Arts
(Honours, Single Major)

Bachelor of Arts
(Honours, Joint Major)

Masters of Arts in History

Career Conscious

The study of History is excellent training for careers involving skilled research and analysis and the ability to write and speak effectively, including teaching, government, law, journalism, business, administration, museum studies and library and archive science.