Bachelor of Science in Environmental and Resource Science - first university program to be accredited by ECO Canada

Trent University is one of Canada’s leading undergraduate universities. For many years it has been recognized for excellent programs in Liberal Arts, Sciences, Social Sciences, Business Administration, Nursing, Education, Forensic Science and Environmental Resources Science/Studies. Due to its relatively small size, students are able to receive personal attention and support needed to succeed and achieve personal goals. Trent enjoys the presence of nearly 700 international students from more than 100 countries.
