

Department of Anthropology
ANNE KEENLEYSIDE
UNDERGRADUATE COLLOQUIUM 2025
Friday, April 11th, 2025

Undergraduate Student Presentations

Moderator: Professor Jennifer Moore

8:00	Breakfast
8:30	Welcome	Christopher Armitage Director, Portfolio Operations & Digital Philanthropy Mark Skinner Dean of Humanities and Social Sciences
8:40	Analysis Stories That Haunt: The Power of Place-Names in Western Apache Tradition	Asia Chalmers
8:55	The Flowers in the Wasteland: plant monsters, embodiment and climate change	Mikaela Lewis
9:10	Experimental Ales: Investigating Starch Modification in Experimental Beer Brewing	Cameron Grant
9:25	The Underwater Vessels of Charleston Lake: Middle to Late Woodland Transition of Ceramic Traditions in Eastern Ontario	Chantel Abaza Supervisor: James Conolly
9:40	A Comparative Urban Analysis of the Four Imperial Capitals of the Đại Việt Kingdom of Northern Vietnam	Joao Paulo Dossantos Supervisor: Gyles Iannone
9:55	Closing remarks	Jennifer Moore
10:00	Break
10:30	Annual Graduate Student Colloquium
12:15	Lunch
	Poster Presentations
	In Too Deep: Reconstructing a Late Formative Life from Chultun C-4	Jessica Said
	Beneath the Ballcourt: Deposition of Human Remains at Ka'kabish	Amelia Millson

Presentations: Student Centre 1.20

Breakfast/Break/Lunch: Student Centre, Event Space

This event was made possible with generous support from Humanities and Social Sciences Dean Enhancement Fund, Otonabee College, and Department of Anthropology.

Anthropology Graduate Program
ANNUAL COLLOQUIUM 2025
Friday, April 11th, 2025

Graduate Student Presentations

Moderator: Professor Paul Szpak

PART I

10:30	Welcome	Paul Szpak
10:35	Functions of Camelid Pastoralism and Fibre Procurement in Virú Valley, Peru: Insights from Stable Sulfur Isotope Analysis	Janelle Pridoehl Supervisor: Paul Szpak
10:55	Reconstructing the Geographic Origins of Individuals Buried at the Saint-Louis Cemetery (Quebec) Through Stable Isotope Analysis	Dawn Bari Supervisor: Paul Szpak
11:15	Using Mortuary Archaeology to Investigate the Uniqueness of the People in Ka'kabish, Chultun C2	Twyla Sorenson Supervisors: Jennifer Newton Helen Haines
11:35	Settlement Archaeology at Hoa Lu, the 10th Century CE Imperial Capital of Vietnam	Madelyn Strongitharm Supervisor: Gyles Iannone
11:55	Finding the Unwritten: The Application of Sensory Archaeology to Women in Punic Religious Rituals in Carthage	Marissa Fauteux Supervisor: Jennifer Moore
12:15	Lunch

Presentations: Student Centre 1.20

Breakfast/Break/Lunch: Student Centre, Event Space

This event was made possible with generous support from the Anthropology Graduate Program, Department of Anthropology, and the School of Graduate Studies.

Anthropology Graduate Program
ANNUAL COLLOQUIUM 2025
Friday, April 11th, 2025

Graduate Student Presentations

Moderator: Professor Paul Szpak

PART II

1:15	Her Mano, Her Metate, Her Story: Unpacking social hierarchy at Ka'kabish through Use-Wear analysis.	Faith Jodhan Supervisor: Laure Dubreuil
1:35	Stones of Sustenance: Investigating Late Woodland Corn Processing in the St. Lawrence	Charles Cumberland Supervisor: Laure Dubreuil
1:55	Muyumoqo Faunal Analysis: Unequal access to animal resources in Formative Cusco	Jean-Philippe Lambert Supervisors: Eugène Morin
2:15	The Underwater Importance of the Kawartha Lake Region	Lorna Miessner Supervisor: James Conolly
2:35	Break
3:00	Archaeological investigation of Kiiktaanaa Mash'ing (BcGn-28): Development of Indigenous Mandated Framework	Caleb Johnson Supervisor: James Conolly
3:20	Archaic lithic materials at Scott Site, Ontario Canada	Hailey Sterling Supervisor: James Conolly
3:40	Exploring the Archaeological Potential of Wetlands at Pigeon Lake's Chiminis "Big" Island	Diego Jimenez Iriarte Supervisor: James Conolly
4:00	Cradles of the colony: A Biocultural assessment of Maternal Infant Welfare Centres in 20th Century Gibraltar	Maha Mian Supervisor: Lianne Tripp
4:20	Closing Remarks

Presentations: Student Centre 1.20

Breakfast/Break/Lunch: Student Centre, Event Space

This event was made possible with generous support from the Anthropology Graduate Program, Department of Anthropology, and the School of Graduate Studies.