

Sign up for Mitacs facilitated sessions now to gain the soft skills needed to make your project a success!

Complement your studies and hands-on training experience with professional development training from Mitacs. These courses, free of charge, will equip you with in-demand skills that will help you meet deadlines, communicate your ideas, and increase your employability. Our courses are organized in bundles, in which learners must complete a self-paced e-learning course before registering for a facilitated session. Each course is developed around one or more of the following competencies: Professional & career fundamentals, Interpersonal skills, Communication, Leadership & management and Intrapreneurialism.

To register, students need to create an account or log in on our learning management system EDGE.

You will find more about each course bundle on our website: Training Courses | Mitacs.

For any questions, please contact us at training@mitacs.ca.
