

Gzowski College Endahying Subsidy

An opportunity for first-year students interested in the Endahying Living Learning Community

In Gzowski College, first-year students who demonstrate leadership potential and an engagement with Indigenous culture have an opportunity, when they complete their residence application, to apply to join the Endahying Living Learning Community (LLC), one of ten LLCs at Trent University.

The Endahying (meaning “our home”) LLC community provides a space for students in Gzowski College residence to grow through shared experiences, storytelling and exploration of Indigenous knowledge and understanding. Students who have an interest in Indigenous culture and knowledge, identify as being Indigenous and/or are enrolled in an Indigenous program are encouraged to apply.

With the generous support of donors, the Gzowski College Endahying Subsidy has been created for students who want to apply to live in the Endahying LLC community but for whom the cost of living in residence is a barrier. Trent University has a commitment to Indigenous engagement and knowledge and in Gzowski College, we want to support students to live in residence and participate in this community.

The successful applicants receive a subsidy of up to $2500.00 that is applied directly to their residence fees. Please note there are a limited number of subsidies available: the process may be competitive.

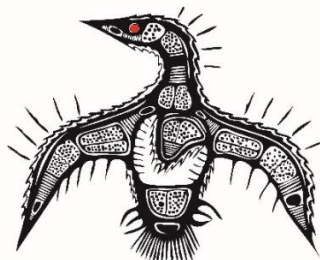

Are finances a barrier to your application to the Endahying LLC? To find out more about the Gzowski College Endahying Subsidy and to receive an application form, email Melanie Buddle (melaniebuddle@trentu.ca), Principal, Peter Gzowski College, Trent University.

For more information on Living Learning Communities at Trent: <http://www.trentu.ca/housing/llc>

For more information on Gzowski College: www.trentu.ca/gzowski

Sincerely,

Dr. Melanie Buddle
Principal, Gzowski College,
Trent University melaniebuddle@trentu.ca

Peter Gzowski College