

School of Education and Professional Learning – Limited Term Appointment
Peterborough Campus

Position: One - 12 month, full-time, limited-term appointment (Practicum Focus) Application Due Date: May 5, 2023

Trent University School of Education and Professional Learning invites applications for a twelve-month limited-term appointment (LTA) with a start date of August 1, 2023. The position is subject to final budgetary approval. Successful candidates will provide leadership in practicum course curricula (Primary/Junior & Intermediate/Senior). Ability to contribute to educational law and cultural and linguistic diversity courses an asset. Teaching duties to be agreed with the Dean. The successful candidate will also serve as a Faculty Advisor.

The School of Education seeks applicants with strong scholarship and demonstrated excellence in teaching (at the primary/junior and intermediate/senior and/or university level). A completed Ph.D. in Education or closely related discipline is preferred. We welcome applicants who are committed to an integrative approach and to a vision of teaching and learning guided by ecological and social justice.

Trent University is situated on the banks of the Otonabee River in Peterborough, Ontario, Canada, and is surrounded by natural beauty. The School of Education and Professional Learning has a program well-known for its high quality and rigour including emphasis in literacies, issues of environmental and social justice, infusion of educational technologies, Indigenous studies, and discipline-specific excellence. Course work offered in our programs incorporates theory and research that encourages our students to think creatively and critically about their professional practice with attention to meeting individual learners' needs, valuing multiple modes of learning and diversity, and enacting researched-effective practices that demonstrate subject excellence and a strong commitment to social and ecological justice, leading to responsible action. Our education programs continually renew themselves and their practices through critical reflection and creative, community-based responses.

All applications should include a letter of introduction which identifies the position applied for, current curriculum vitae, teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching success including teaching evaluations (preferably tabulated as well as anecdotal), demonstrated experience with current knowledge and practices of assessment and evaluation; description of current research interests and projects, and the names and full mailing/emailing addresses of three referees. Please submit one PDF file or link.

The preferred method for submitting your application is by email to:

Claire Mooney, Acting Dean, School of Education and Professional Learning at clairemooney@trentu.ca by May 5, 2023, by 4 pm.

Trent University is committed to creating a diverse and inclusive campus community. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. Preference will be given to candidates from underrepresented groups including women, Indigenous People (First Nations, Inuit, and Métis), persons with disabilities, members of visible minorities or racialized groups and LGBTQ2+ people.

Trent University offers accommodation for applicants with disabilities in its recruitment processes. If you require accommodation during the recruitment process or require an accessible version of a document/publication, please contact clairemooney@trentu.ca

For additional information please visit our web site at: www.trentu.ca/education