

2022–2023 Undergraduate Academic Calendar Supplement to Academic Programs / Special Programs & Opportunities

September 2022

The Calendar Supplement should be used in conjunction with the 2022–2023 Academic Calendar. Updates contained in this document supersede the Calendar published May 2022.

Academic Programs

Child & Youth Studies

New course

CHYS 4905H, 4906H: Research Practicum

Designed to allow students to pursue research activities under the direction of a department faculty member, normally within the faculty/supervisor's ongoing research program. Prerequisite: 12.0 university credits including 70% or higher in CHYS 2000H and a minimum cumulative average of 70%, and permission of the program coordinator and course instructor. Open only to Child & Youth Studies majors. May not be taken concurrently with CHYS 4880H, 4881H, or 4882Y.

English Literature

New course topics

ENGL 4120Y/4121H: Advanced Studies in Middle English Language and Literature

Topic for 2022–2023: Introduction to Medieval Manuscripts. This course explores the production of medieval texts from twelfth-century Ireland to fourteenth-century England and the great manuscripts of Chaucer's Canterbury Tales, concluding with a look at the first printed books. An introduction to scripts and abbreviations and the practice of glossing will include hands-on work with quill pens and real parchment. Prerequisite: 4.0 ENGL credits (or permission of the department). Students may take only one of ENGL 4120Y or 4121H for credit.

ENGL 4152Y/4153H: Advanced Studies in Renaissance Literature

Topic for 2022–2023: Staging the Supernatural. This course introduces students to a variety of sixteenth and seventeenth century plays about magic, witches, and devils, and investigates what we can learn about early modern English attitudes toward gender, sex, age, the body, religion, and community through its representations, on both page and stage, of these supernatural figures. Prerequisite: 4.0 ENGL credits (or permission of the department). Students may take only one of ENGL 4152Y or 4153H for credit.

ENGL 4250Y/4251H: Advanced Studies in the Romantics

Topic for 2022–2023: Sense and Sensibility: Jane Austen and Lord Byron. This course looks at the cult of sensibility as treated by Jane Austen in Northanger Abbey, Sense and Sensibility, and Persuasion (which includes a flirtation over Byron's poetry), and interspersed with examples of charismatically tortured heroes from Byron's wildly popular Childe Harold, Manfred, and Don Juan. Prerequisite: 4.0 ENGL credits (or permission of the department). Students may take only one of ENGL 4250Y or 4251H for credit.

ENGL 4600Y/4601H: Advanced Studies in Critical Approaches to Literature

Topic for 2022–2023: Black Radicalism. The development of capitalism is entwined with the subordination and enslavement of racial populations. With a special emphasis on twentieth and twenty-first century African-American literature, this course examines how Black radical thought has played an important role in interrogating and resisting racial capitalism and its enduring consequences. Prerequisite: 4.0 ENGL credits (or permission of the department). Students may take only one of ENGL 4600Y or 4601H for credit.

ENGL 4800Y/4801H: Advanced Studies in Genre

Topic for 2022–2023: American Musicals. What happens when characters sing? This course explores that question by examining three American musicals and their sources: Carousel and the Hungarian expressionist drama, Liliom; Cabaret with Berlin Stories and I Am a Camera; Sweeney Todd alongside Dibdin-Pitt's penny-dreadful, The String of Pearls and Christopher Bond's Sweeney Todd: A Melodrama. Prerequisite: 4.0 ENGL credits (or permission of the department). Students may take only one of ENGL 4800Y or 4801H for credit.

ENGL 4806Y/4807H: Advanced Studies in Modern Fiction

Topic for 2022–2023: Elements of Compression in Twentieth Century Fiction. Henry James said nineteenth century novels were "loose, baggy monsters," overstuffed, under-structured horrors. This course studies "tight," super-short twentieth century texts; it's all short stories and "novels" with fewer than 200 pages. Authors may include John Steinbeck, Chinua Achebe, John Cheever, Earl Lovelace, Muriel Spark, Penelope Fitzgerald, J. M. Coetzee, Lorrie Moore. Prerequisite: 4.0 ENGL credits (or permission of the department). Students may take only one of ENGL 4806Y or 4807H for credit.

French & Francophone Studies

New course title & description

FREN 1020H: Intermediate Beginner French I / Français débutant intermédiaire I

A course in oral and written French for students with an above basic knowledge of French (who do not have 3U/M or 4U/M French or its equivalent). Relies on textual as well as audio-visual and electronic support material. Not for credit toward a major in French Studies. Students whose level of French is judged by the instructor to be too advanced may not receive credit for this course. For students taking their first FREN course at Trent, admission to this course is based on the results of the French placement test. For other students, FREN 1010H is the prerequisite; or permission of the instructor. Not open to students with credit for FREN 1000Y. Equivalent to FREN 1001H.

FREN 1030H: Intermediate Beginner French II / Français débutant intermédiaire II

A course in oral and written French particularly geared to students who have taken FREN 1020H but also for students with an above basic knowledge of French (who do not have 3U/M or 4U/M French or its equivalent). Relies on textual as well as on audio-visual and electronic support material. Not for credit toward a major in French Studies. Students whose level of French is judged by the instructor to be too advanced may not receive credit for this course. For students taking their first FREN course at Trent, admission to this course is based on the results of the French placement test. For other students, FREN 1020H is the prerequisite; or permission of the instructor. Not open to students with credit for FREN 1000Y. Equivalent to FREN 1002H.

New course code, title & description

FREN 1040H is now offered as:

FREN 1060H: Advanced Beginner French I / Français débutant avancé I

A course in oral and written French particularly geared to students who have taken FREN 1030H, but also open to students at an intermediate beginner level who recognize the need for a systematic acquisition/review of grammar to develop their oral and written skills. Not for credit toward a major in French Studies. May not be taken concurrently with, or following, FREN 1101H and 1102H. For students taking their first FREN course at Trent, admission to this course is based on the results of the French placement test. For other students, FREN 1030H is the prerequisite; or permission of the instructor. Not open to students with credit for FREN 1040H, 2000Y, or 2001H.

FREN 1050H is now offered as:

FREN 1070H: Advanced Beginner French II / Français débutant avancé II

A course in oral and written French particularly geared to students who have taken FREN 1060H, but also open to students at a strong beginner level who recognize the need for a systematic acquisition/review of grammar to develop their oral and written skills. Not for credit toward a major in French Studies. May not be taken concurrently with, or following, FREN 1101H and 1102H. For students taking their first FREN course at Trent, admission to this course is based on the results of the French placement test. For other students, FREN 1060H is the prerequisite; or permission of the instructor. Not open to students with credit for FREN 1050H, 2000Y, or 2002H.

Kinesiology

New prerequisite

KINE 2001H: Kinesiology I: Anatomy of Human Movement (Sc)

Prerequisite: 60% or higher in each of KINE 1001H and BIOL 1050H.

KINE 2002H: Kinesiology II: Exercise Physiology (Sc)

Prerequisite: 60% or higher in each of KINE 1001H and BIOL 1051H.

KINE 3001H: Biomechanics (Sc)

Prerequisite: 60% or higher in KINE 2001H and 60% or higher in one of PHYS-BIOL 1060H or PHYS 1000H.

Physics & Astronomy

New course

PHYS 2605H: Introduction to Quantum Computing (Sc)

An introduction to the fundamentals of quantum computing aimed at intermediate physics learners. Topics include review of classical computers and introduction to quantum computers, vector spaces, qubits, superposition using photons and electron spin, quantum gates, quantum circuits, quantum algorithms. Prerequisite: PHYS 1002H and MATH 1350H, or permission of the instructor. Recommended: MATH 1550H.

Policing & Community Well-Being

New course exclusion

PLCW 1001H: Introduction to Policing and Community Well-Being Part 1

Examines the nature of safety and security in the community by focusing on the role of the police as an agent of social control and safety, including how police forces have changed over time in Western countries and the various challenges facing modern police forces in Canada. Not open to students with credit for PLCW 1000H.

Political Studies

New courses

POST 3252H: Transnationalism and Resettlement of Immigrants

This course provides an overview of theories and policies within the area of transnationalism focusing on care, work, and immigration. Students develop a global and local awareness of the social, political, and economic effects of transnationalism on the resettlement of migrants and their families. Prerequisite: 7.0 university credits including 1.0 POST credit at the 2000 level or permission of instructor. Recommended: CAST 2245H.

POST 4252H: Refugees, Forced Migration, and Experience in the Canadian Context

This course focuses on the ethical and moral complexities raised by displacement and forced migration. Students examine the social, economic, and political factors associated with Canada's refugee sponsorship programs. Attention is given to media representations of refugees. Topics include resilience, parenting in a war context, and refugee education. Prerequisite: 9.0 university credits including 1.0 POST credit at the 2000 level, or permission of instructor. Recommended: CAST 2245H and/or POST 3250H.

New cross-listed course

POST-SOCI 3822H: The Canadian Labour Movement: Class, Protest, and Confronting Neoliberalism in the Digital Age (see Sociology)

New cross-listing & prerequisitePOST-CAST-GESO-SOCI 3672H: Gender, Diversity, and Intersectionalities

Examines issues of diverse intersectional gender identities and gender experiences, including Indigeneity, (dis)ability, race, class, LGBTQ, and fat, and provides socio-political perspectives to understand activism, community building, and possibilities for socio-political and policy change. Prerequisite: 7.0 university credits including 1.0 POST, CAST, GESO, and/or SOCI credit at the 2000 level, or permission of instructor. Recommended: POST-CAST 2011H and/or 2012H. Not open to students with credit for POST-CAST-WMST 3670Y.

New title & descriptionPOST-PHIL 2351H: The Political Imagination: Ancient and Modern

Drawing on texts in political theory and other media (e.g., literature, film, theatre), explores core themes in the political imagination of the ancient and modern worlds. Through an exploration of different perspectives on politics and its possibilities, the course opens a particular route of access to political thought. Prerequisite: 4.0 university credits or permission of instructor.

POST-PHIL 2352H: The Contemporary Political Imagination

Drawing on texts in political theory and other media (e.g., literature, film, theatre), explores core themes in the political imagination of the contemporary world. Through an exploration of different perspectives on politics and its possibilities, the course opens a particular route of access to political thought. Prerequisite: 4.0 university credits or permission of instructor.

POST 3335H: The Meaning of Politics Today

Explores political theory in the context of contemporary political events and issues. In doing so, it examines the uses and limitations of political theory in relation to themes such as democracy, justice, equality, diversity, and reconciliation. Prerequisite: 7.0 university credits or permission of instructor. Not open to students with credit for POST 3330Y.

New descriptionPOST 4331H: Power, Resistance, and Hope

Drawing on political theory, the course explores the relationship between power, forms of resistance, and the hope for and potential practices of alternative forms of politics. In doing so, it focuses on concepts such as oppression and domination, subjectivity, democracy, utopia, and prefigurative politics. Prerequisite: 12.0 university credits including 1.0 credit from POST-PHIL 2351H and 2352H or POST 3335H; or permission of instructor.

Psychology

Erratum: program requirements

Bachelor of Science Program in Psychology

The single-major General program and the joint-major General program:

–For the BSc, 11.0 science credits including 1.0 MATH credit are required for the General degree of which at least ~~2.0~~ 1.5 science credits (Sc designated courses) are in addition to Psychology courses and courses cross-listed with Psychology

Sociology

New specialization requirements

Specialization in Social Justice & Equity Studies

Students who have fulfilled the requirements for a single- or joint-major Honours degree in Sociology may graduate with a Specialization in Social Justice and Equity Studies if they have successfully completed the following 4.0 credits:

– 2.5 SOCI credits consisting of SOCI 2220H, 2430H, 3250H, 3440H, and 3661H

– 1.5 credits from:

SOCI-ADMN 2340H

SOCI 2630H

SOCI-IDST 3120H

SOCI-IDST 3121H

SOCI-IDST 3150H

SOCI-ADMN 3320H

SOCI-GESO-PHIL 3400H

SOCI 3410H

SOCI 3460H

SOCI-POST-CAST-GESO 3672H

SOCI-POST 3822H

SOCI-CAST-GESO 3860H

SOCI-IDST 3881H

SOCI-CAST-GESO-POST 3962H

SOCI-CAST-GESO 3966H

SOCI-IDST 4111H

SOCI-IDST-POST 4230H

SOCI-POST-IDST-ADMN 4255H

SOCI 4270H

SOCI-CAST-GESO 4551H

SOCI 4620H

SOCI-GESO-IDST 4630H

SOCI-IDST 4750H

SOCI 4850H

GESO 3122H/4122H

POST-CAST 3092H

POST 3420H

New course

SOCI-POST 3822H: The Canadian Labour Movement: Class, Protest, and Confronting Neoliberalism in the Digital Age

Critically explores the politics and the practices of the Canadian labour movement. Examines feminist and anti-racist critiques of unions and the challenges facing unions in the neo-liberal period and the digital age. Other issues include globalization, technological change, precarious labour, and state behaviour towards workers and collective protest. Prerequisite: 5.0 university credits including at least 1.5 SOCI and/or POST credits at the 2000 level.

New cross-listed course

SOCI-POST-CAST-GESO 3672H: Gender, Diversity, and Intersectionalities (see Political Studies)

Special Programs & Opportunities

Postgraduate Certificates

New postgraduate certificate

Postgraduate Certificate in Accounting

The Postgraduate Certificate in Accounting is available to students who hold an undergraduate degree not in accounting from any accredited university. The program is offered at Trent's Peterborough campus and may be taken on a full-time basis. This program will be of interest to recent graduates wishing to pursue a professional career in accounting. The Postgraduate Certificate in Accounting covers all prerequisite undergraduate courses required by CPA Ontario. Upon successful completion of the certificate, students will be able to work in the accounting field, enrol in accredited graduate programs in accounting, and/or enrol in the CPA Professional Education Program as they continue their pursuit towards their CPA designation. Internationally educated applicants are encouraged to familiarize themselves with CPA Ontario's assessment process for evaluating the applicant's undergraduate degree(s).

Application Procedure

Candidates may apply to the Postgraduate Certificate in Accounting through the Trent website at trentu.ca/business. An official transcript must accompany the application.

Courses

The certificate program consists of the following 9.0 credits:

- 7.0 ADMN credits consisting of ADMN 1221H, 3021H, 3121H, 3200H, 3221H, 3250H, 3321H, 3710H, 4030H, 4300H, 4301H, 4302H, 4303H, and 4710H
- 1.5 ECON credits consisting of ECON 1010H, 1020H, and 2200H
- 0.5 COIS credit consisting of COIS 1620H
- A minimum cumulative average of 65% is required to complete the certificate

Notes

- CPA Ontario requires students to have a grade of 50% or higher in each of the non-core courses (ADMN 1221H, 3021H, ECON 1010H, 1020H, 2200H, 3250H, and COIS 1620H) and a grade of 60% or higher in each of the core courses (ADMN 3221H, 3321H, 4303H, 4030H, 3121H, 4302H, 4301H, 3200H, 4300H, 3710H, and 4710H). Students must also have an overall average of 65% in the core courses for admission into the CPA PEP.
- Transfer credit may not be awarded for the Certificate.
- For individual course descriptions, see Business Administration (p. 69), Economics (p. 144), and Computer Science (p. 121). Please consult the academic timetable, available at trentu.ca/timetable, for information on when courses will be scheduled.

Renamed postgraduate certificate

The Postgraduate Certificate in Teaching English as a Second Language (TESL) is now the Postgraduate Certificate in Teaching English as a Foreign Language. Certificate requirements unchanged.

Trent/Swansea Dual Degree – Law & Arts/Business

New major available in the dual degree program

Criminology

Year 1

5.0 credits including the following:

- 0.5 CRIM credit consisting of CRIM 1615H
- 0.5 CRIM credit from CRIM 2618H or 2619H
- 0.5 FRSC credit consisting of FRSC 1100H
- 0.5 INDG credit consisting of INDG 1001H
- 1.0 SOCI credit consisting of SOCI 1001H and 1002H
- 0.5 WRIT credit consisting of WRIT 1001H
- 1.5 elective credits

Year 2

5.0 credits including the following:

- 1.0 CRIM credit consisting of CRIM 2616H and 2617H
- 1.5 CRIM credits from CRIM 3600H, 3660H, 3617H, 3640H, or 3650H
- 0.5 INDG credit consisting of INDG 3201H
- 0.5 SOCI credit from SOCI 2220H or 2610H
- 0.5 credit from CRIM 3625H or SOCI 3250H
- 1.0 elective credit

Year 6

5.0 transfer credits awarded for successful completion of LLB program (years 3-5):

- 0.5 unassigned CRIM credit at the 2000 level
- 0.5 unassigned CRIM credit at the 3000 level
- 0.5 unassigned SOCI credit at the 2000 level
- 1.0 unassigned SOCI credit at the 4000 level

- 2.5 unassigned ARTS credits at the 4000 level

5.0 credits including the following:

- 2.5 LAWS credits consisting of LAWS 4000H, 4010H, 4020H, 4030H, and 4040H
- 1.0 CRIM credit from CRIM 3600H, 3660H, 3617H, 3640H or 3650H (excluding courses taken in year two at Trent)
- 1.0 CRIM credit consisting of CRIM 4220H and 4230H
- 0.5 elective credit

Note: Students are advised to consult the Criminology program coordinator for a prerequisite waiver to complete CRIM 2616H and 3000-level CRIM courses simultaneously in year two of the program.